Summary

This series reflects Carroll's interest in Museum administration, programming, and outreach activities. The files on the Tampa Museum are significant as they reflect the special arrangements made by the Ringling Museum to provide administrative and operational support during its first five years. There is also material on the 50th anniversary of the opening of the Museum celebrated in 1980 as well as records on the International Rubens Symposium held in 1982. The Asolo State Theater files contain information on performances and contractual agreements with the Asolo Company. Carroll maintained files on other Museum offices for example, the Fiscal Office, the Information Office, the Education Office as well as others, and on administrative activities relating to the State. Of special interest is the 1983 report on the 1973 Long Range Plan.
